

DEAR TIMOTHY, FAITH FOR A NEXT GENERATION

How do you entrust to a generation you don't trust?

Jason DeShaw | January 7, 2024

Message Notes

Who do you TRUST?

- Pure Heart
- Good Conscience
- Sincere Faith

Who TRUSTS you?

- Knows your reputation
- Knows your willingness
- Knows your likeness

The Next Generation is always the future of the Church.

SCRIPTURE

1 Timothy 1; John 21:15-18

Discussion Guide

ENGAGE

1. Share about a time when you taught someone how to do something?
2. Read 1 Timothy 1:1-7. What do you learn about Paul and Timothy's relationship in these verses? What do you learn about the "doctrine" (taught set of beliefs) of the church?
3. What are the ingredients to living the command of love? (v.5)
4. Describe someone with the ingredients of a Pure Heart, Good Conscience, and Sincere Faith? Do they love well?
5. How does the quality of your "ingredients" prepare you to either become a mentor or to be mentored?

APPLY

Are you a "Paul" or a "Timothy" in the church? For the seasoned "Pauls": consider who you might mentor in a next generation. For the growing "Timothys": consider who you would have speak into your life right now. If there is a name that comes to mind in either case, begin that conversation this week.
